Communication

Hello Families! This is our weekly newsletter. Each Sunday I will send out our weekly updates and reminders. You can also find our newsletters on our classroom website at: <http://mrshahnk.weebly.com/>

What We're Learning

In reading we are:

- Building reading stamina
- Picking "just right" books
- Establishing rules/routines for reader's workshop

In writing we are:

- Beginning small moments, narrative writing
- Reviewing writing workshop strategies

In math we are:

- Establishing routines
- Investigating number lines/number grids
- Skip counting
- Identifying even/odd

In science we are:

- Investigating what it means to be a scientist and the scientific method
- PLTW (project lead the way), properties of matter

In social studies we are:

- Building community in our classroom
- Getting to know our classmates

Just a quick reminder that students will need scissors ASAP, if they don't have them already.
We use scissors almost every day!

PTO Announcements

Only two weeks until the first ever Thurston PTO Auction called Black Tie, Blue Jeans. Read on for more information:

Black Tie, Blue Jeans is a chance for Thurston adults (parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, teachers, neighbors, etc.) to gather together to enjoy good company, good atmosphere, and good food while supporting Thurston PTO efforts (specifically student field trips, teacher/staff enrichment, and site beautification). Get a sitter, and come enjoy some heavy appetizers while you have fun with the adults you'll be volunteering, interacting, and planning play dates with throughout the year!

Please Save the following Dates for Black Tie, Blue Jeans:

Travel Folders/ HW

Now is a great time to get into the routine of checking the family communication folder each day (travel folder). Students should bring it to and from school each day.
